In answer to this mystical type, the great High Priest of the church, our Lord Jesus Christ, being to enter into the "holy place not made with hands," did, by the glorious prayer recorded in this chapter. . . fill the heavens above, the glorious place of God's residence, with a cloud of incense or the sweet perfume of his blessed intercession.

By the same eternal fire wherewith he offered himself a bloody sacrifice to make atonement for sin, he kindled in his most holy soul those desires for the application of all his benefits unto his church which are here expressed, and wherein his intercession doth consist.

I am no longer n the world.

I am no longer n the world. And yet they themselves are in the world.

I am no longer n the world. And yet they themselves are in the world. And I come to you, Holy Father, I am no longer n the world. And yet they themselves are in the world. And I come to you, Holy Father, Keep them in Your name...
